LATEST UPDATE

Oil plays spoilsport as markets post marginal gains; Dow ends higher, FTSE falls 4%

The market on Friday managed to end a largely negative day on a flat note. Benchmark indices managed to end just below the flat line.

In the broader markets space, the Nifty Midcap underperformed benchmark indices. Weak global cues from Wall Street spilled over to Asian markets. Indices there ended in the red, with some losses in the IT sector.

For the week, both the Sensex and the Nifty managed to end with gains of over half a percent and ending the fourth consecutive week in the green, while the Bank Nifty ended over 1 percent lower.

The Midcap index was up 1 percent, while the IT index was the highest gainer, having risen 5 percent. India VIX was at 12.93, down by 5.89 percent, and is expected to remain sideways.

Crude oil prices dipped on Friday but stayed near their three-year high levels, reached earlier this week. This is because the ongoing OPEC-led supply cuts and strong demand have gradually started drawing down excess supplies.

US crude fell 0.4 percent to USD 68.06 per barrel, while Brent was last at USD 73.66, down 0.16 percent on the day.

Provisions for the quarter under review are expected to grow to Rs 1,515 crore, up 20 percent from Rs 1,262 crore in Q4 FY 17.
